Dear EOPS Student,

This is a follow up to an email you received from EOPS on March 13, 2020.

We want you to know that we care about your academic success and your wellbeing. In order for the campus to best prepare to move classes and services online, there will be no services and classes this week. Take this time to be with your family and loved ones.

Our EOPS staff is working hard to make sure that we continue our operations and provide you with the necessary EOPS services.

Beginning next week, EOPS services and Student Development classes will be offered remotely. If you had a scheduled counseling appointment this week Tuesday 3/17/20 through Friday 3/20/20 we have cancelled, and you can call us to reschedule starting next Monday 3/23. Please check your student emails regularly for updates from GCC and from EOPS. We have created a new EOPS UPDATES button on the EOPS home page. You can use this to access all the recent communications (IN PROGRESS) <https://www.glendale.edu/students/student-services/eops-home>.

We will send you another email with all the latest updates this week. EOPS emails will come from nazaryan@glendale.edu. As always, the email subject will begin with “EOPS” to help you easily identify EOPS emails.

IMPORTANT: Because we will be operating remotely and working mostly using phones and emails, it is crucial that you take a moment now and check the accuracy of your main contact phone number in MyGCC. Attached, please see instructions with four simple steps on how to do it. Your phone number is needed, so we can contact you on college business. For EOPS, we need your most current contact information to schedule and reschedule your counseling appointments. We will also use your number for phone-based counseling.

NOTE: If we do not have your correct phone number, we will not be able to offer you a full extent of our services.

Stay tuned for updates this week...
