A probationary performance evaluation shall be considered to have been provided timely when it is issued no later than 5 working days from the 2nd or 5th month anniversary of a probationary bargaining unit employee's start date.

A probationary bargaining unit employee who receives an overall performance evaluation rating of below "meets standards", shall be expected to improve their performance to such an extent that a re-evaluation will reflect an overall rating of "meets standards" or above. A probationary bargaining unit employee who receives an evaluation below "meets standards" at their first probationary evaluation shall be given a written Performance Improvement Plan (PIP) (Appendix E2) by their supervisor, if the supervisor determines that the subsequent fifth month probationary evaluation could result in the probationary employee receiving an overall rating of "meets standards" or higher after completing the PIP. (Article XVII, Section 5). The District shall retain complete discretion in whether to issue a probationary performance improvement plan, and in establishing a reasonable time period for the probationary employee's performance improvement plan.

If a supervisor fails to complete a timely second (2nd) and/or fifth (5th) month evaluation and proceeds to recommend to the District that the bargaining unit employee be released during their probationary period, then that employee shall be entitled to request an additional review by the Vice President of Human Resources or their designee prior to any decision being finalized. In the event such a request is made, the Vice President of Human Resources or their designee shall meet with the employee and their designated representative, if any, to review the circumstances of the recommendation for release before rendering a final decision. The final decision shall be communicated in writing and include the rationale for either upholding the recommendation or continuing the requestor's employment with the District.

This review shall not be available to a probationary bargaining unit employee who is released due to concerns related to misconduct deemed serious enough by the District to warrant their immediate separation.

- SECTION 2. Permanent Employee – Upon successful completion of the probationary period, a bargaining unit employee shall be designated as a permanent employee.
- SECTION 3. Objective of the Probationary Period - The probationary period shall be utilized for closely observing the bargaining unit employee's work performance, for assessing the bargaining unit employee's ability to perform the position duties and for rejecting any bargaining unit employee whose performance is not satisfactory.

The class specification shall include the job-related duties for each classification and will be periodically updated when essential duties are determined by the District to have changed. Nothing in this section shall preclude CSEA from addressing concerns about a job classification with the District. The parties shall negotiate changes to class specifications to the extent required by law.

The list of essential duties in a class specification shall not constitute an exhaustive list of the classification's responsibilities, and shall not be a restriction on the assignment of other job-related duties not specifically listed (i.e. there may be other duties assigned).

SECTION 2. Classification Studies -

- A. When a new position is created, the District and CSEA shall meet and negotiate to establish a salary range. In the event there are less than three (3) comparable positions, the District may use class descriptions and salary schedules compiled from outside sources that are mutually agreed upon.
- B. Classification studies of individual positions or groups of positions shall be made whenever the assigned duties or responsibilities have undergone significant changes (ex: level of responsibility, problem solving, decision-making authority, knowledge, skills, abilities, working conditions, scope of impact) or if requested by CSEA and/or the District.
- C. Upon mutual agreement between the District and CSEA, consultants may be used to complete the classification studies.

- By District initiation on an individual or group basis (e.g. during a reorganization); or

- At the conclusion of a District review of CSEA's request to evaluate work being performed within a specific classification.
- Following the review of a request by a bargaining unit employee (self-initiation). Bargaining unit employees must have been employed in a position for a minimum of twenty-four (24) months in their current permanent role in order to self-initiate a reclassification review.

- SECTION 1. Work Stoppage - Apart from and in addition to existing legal restrictions upon work stoppages, CSEA agrees that neither it nor its officers, agents, or representatives, or persons acting in concert with any of them, shall incite, encourage, participate in or condone any strike, sickout, walkout, slowdown, or other work stoppage of any nature during the duration of this Agreement for any cause or dispute, without regard to whether their underlying dispute is subject to the grievance provisions of Article VI or a PERB proceedings. In the event of any such work stoppage or threat of a work stoppage, CSEA and its officers, agents and representatives shall take all reasonable steps within their control to end it or discourage it.

Such limited re-opener negotiations shall be subject to the negotiations obligations of the Education Employment Relations Act (Government Code §§ 3540-3549.3) and are not subject to the Grievance Procedures (Article VI).

SECTION 3. Agreement Remains in Status Quo During Negotiations. If the parties have not reached an agreement on or before the Agreement expiration date, all provisions of the Agreement shall remain in effect.
