

Dear Students,

We are closely monitoring the severe wind situation and the associated hazards, including fires in the areas surrounding our college. Many of our students live in these communities and may be dealing with evacuations, power outages, or other challenging conditions. Our thoughts are with those affected and we are here to support you.

As a precaution, all GCC campuses will remain closed Wednesday, January 8, 2025, and all in-person classes will be canceled until 4:00 p.m. due to the ongoing wind activity. We anticipate that by 4:00 p.m., conditions will have improved, and we will be able to resume normal operations for evening classes and events.

For students with appointments:

- In-person services, including counseling, will be moved to Zoom for the same timeslot, where possible.
- Some appointments may need to be canceled or rescheduled due to the closure. Please check your email for updates.

We encourage you to check your GCC email regularly for any further updates regarding the status of college operations. We expect to resume normal operations by 4:00 p.m. on Wednesday but will notify you if the situation requires any changes.

Please stay safe and take care of yourselves.

Thank you for your cooperation and understanding.
